WELCOME MESSAGE

On behalf of the congress committees, it is with great pleasure to announce that the 19th International Congress of Psychiatry, and the 7th International Congress of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry, will be held from 11-13 June, 2024.

Our Theme is Resistant Psychiatric Disorders Predictors and Challenges

Treatment resistance affects 60% of patients with psychiatric disorders; and is associated with increased healthcare burden and costs up to ten-fold higher. There has been recent increase in the proportion of psychiatric research focusing on treatment resistance, its prevalence and impact. In this congress we will provide an overview of treatment resistance, considering its conceptualisation, assessment, epidemiology, impact, and common neurobiological models. It is important to review new treatments and consensus guidelines, covering schizophrenia, major depressive disorder, bipolar affective disorder, and obsessive compulsive disorder (OCD). Recommendations to address these issues, including harmonisation of definitions, and research into the mechanisms and novel interventions to enable targeted and personalised therapeutic approaches would be achieved by your valuable sharing and exchange experiences.

Make your plans and arrangements to join us in this hallmark event. Meet our Eminent Speakers, National, Regional and International

Waiting to welcoming you in the congress.
